Former to our invitation letter, we would like to inform everyone that the participants of SCIMUN VI conference will only be restricted to participants within Guangdong Province of China due to the outbreak of COVID-19.

Dear Esteemed Advisor,

We cordially invite you and your institution to our sixth annual Southern China International Model United Nations (SCIMUN) conference. SCIMUN VI will be held March 18th through 20th, 2021, at the JW Marriott Hotel Bao'an, in Shenzhen, China.

SCIMUN 2021 upholds the integrity of the past conferences. To continue the annual tradition of SCIMUN, SCIMUN 2021 will be conducted on the basis of our motto student-led, student-initiated, and student-involved. Our commitment to professionalism, sustainability, global connection, cooperation, leadership, and development imbues all our actions to ensuring an unforgettable life experience for all the participants of this conference.

During the span of our three-day conference, the students attending SCIMUN will represent a member state of the United Nations, otherwise known as a delegate, and debate about the international issues in their respective committees. The conference will serve for the purpose of improving the participant's communication, research, and debating skills and enhancing their understanding of the current global relations and their identity as a global citizen. Our four former Secretary Generals have presented conferences under the themes of Sustainability, the Rule of Law, International Security, Global Development, and Redefining Authority.

Following the legacies of this organization, it is my honor to announce SCIMUN VI's theme: Suppressing Disorder. It is not an exaggeration to call the year of 2020 the definition of disorder. Shaken by the unprecedented pandemic of COVID-19, the world was forced to change all the means of living; the rages of the Hong Kong citizens have yet to be pacified, extending the political unrest; the outraging crowds of the African American citizens have cried for justice through the demonstration of the Black Lives Matter movement. Now, have the authorities dealt the situation well and could their responses be regarded as "good"? What could global cooperation, specifically the United Nations, do to "suppress the disorder"? SCIMUN VI invites you to explore these questions in our conference along with your fellow delegates and chairs.

This year, the SCIMUN offers the following committees: Group of Twenty (G20), World Health Organization (WHO), Economics and Financial Committee (ECOFIN), Human Rights Council (HRC), Disarmament Committee, and Historical Committee. If you would like to attend the conference, please fill out the interest form attached to this email or visit our official SCIMUN website www.scimun.net to fill out the 'Interest Form' posted on the 'Registration' Section. Should there be any inquiries, feel free to contact us at scimun@shenzhen.qsi.org.

It is with great pleasure we invite you to SCIMUN 2021, and I truly hope this will be a memorable experience for you all. I look forward to welcoming you in March at Shenzhen!

Sincerely,

Sharon Han
